

Ideal Customer Profile — Your Review

Franchise Sellers & Company Sellers

What is this?

An "Ideal Customer Profile" (ICP) is just a short description of our perfect-fit customer — the kind of business owner we most want to reach with our marketing. The clearer we are about who that is, the better our outreach works and the less time we waste on the wrong people.

We've written a first draft for each of our two brands, based on the rules we use today. You know these sellers better than anyone, so we'd love your help sharpening it.

How to use this form:

Read each brand's draft below, then type your thoughts into the boxes (you can type directly in this PDF in any reader — Acrobat, Preview, or a browser). When you're done, choose File > Save and email it back to Theodore. That's it — no logins, nothing to install.

Your name and the date (optional):

FRANCHISE SELLERS (FS)

Who we think we're targeting today:

Franchise Sellers helps franchise owners sell their franchise business. Right now we aim for a U.S.-based owner who currently runs their franchise (not retired, and hasn't already sold it), operating up to about 25 locations. Any franchise industry is currently in scope.

1. Which industries or business types are the BEST fits — and are there any we should avoid?

2. What size is the sweet spot? (Roughly how many employees / how much yearly revenue — and what's too small or too big?)

3. What makes a GREAT seller (one we really want), versus one that just barely qualifies?

4. What usually makes an owner decide to sell? (retirement, burnout, health, partner split, market timing, an unsolicited offer...)

5. What are their biggest worries or objections about selling?

6. What message or angle lands best with this kind of owner?

7. Anything here we have WRONG, or anything important we're missing?

COMPANY SELLERS (CS)

Who we think we're targeting today:

Company Sellers helps owners of private, independent (non-franchise) businesses sell. Right now we aim for a U.S.-based owner who currently runs a privately-held business (not private-equity-owned or publicly traded), that has been operating 3+ years, with up to about 50 employees and up to about $25M in yearly revenue, and 3 or fewer owners.

1. Which industries or business types are the BEST fits — and are there any we should avoid?

2. What size is the sweet spot? (Roughly how many employees / how much yearly revenue — and what's too small or too big?)

3. What makes a GREAT seller (one we really want), versus one that just barely qualifies?

4. What usually makes an owner decide to sell? (retirement, burnout, health, partner split, market timing, an unsolicited offer...)

5. What are their biggest worries or objections about selling?

6. What message or angle lands best with this kind of owner?

7. Anything here we have WRONG, or anything important we're missing?

Thank you! When you're finished: File > Save, then email this back to Theodore (theodore@franchisesellers.com).